Gramex is a member organisation. Gramex' members are music producers (record companies) and performing artists.

The organisation was founded in 1963 for the purpose of managing the right to remuneration for public performance of published sound recordings on behalf of performing artists and music producers. Gramex is approved by the Ministry of Culture to exercise this management based on the compulsory license in section 68 of the Danish Copyright Act. Gramex may in addition manage rights to the use of published sound recordings based on specific mandates from the music producers and/or the performing artists.

Gramex collects remuneration on behalf of Danish and foreign rightsholders. Gramex is responsible for the collection of remuneration in several areas, in particular in radio and television, while the collection for the public performance of sound recordings that takes place in e.g., shops, restaurants, bars and gyms, is made by Koda on behalf of both Koda and Gramex.

Gramex is chaired by a Board of Directors elected by Gramex' Annual General Meeting. The board has seven members, of which three of the members represent the performing artists, three of the members represent the producers, and one member has special knowledge of copyright law and the function of copyright in society. In addition, one deputy for the producers and one for the performing artists are elected to the board.

The day-to-day operations are managed by a Chief Executive Officer. Gramex has 28 employees in 5 departments: Finance & Administration, Business Development & Communication, Member Services & Repertoire, HR & Legal and IT.

Gramex collects remuneration from various users of music, including radio stations, shops, restaurants, theatres, etc., and distributes the remuneration to the rightsholders. Gramex' collections of remuneration apply to all rightsholders who hold the rights to sound recordings. Gramex has entered into reciprocity agreements with 46 foreign organisations in 34 countries and exchange annually remuneration with foreign sister organisations corresponding the use that has taken place of the repertoire which these organisations represent. Accordingly, Gramex receives remuneration from the use of the repertoire of Gramex' members in the countries with which we have reciprocity agreements. Gramex redistributes this remuneration to Gramex' members.

2. Activity report 2.020

At the end of 2021, Gramex had approx. 38,500 members, of which approx. 4,500 are music producers and approx. 34,000 are performing artists.

Gramex got off to a rough start in 2021, since remuneration in the first quarter was hit hard by an almost total lockdown of society. The lockdown meant that remuneration from shops, restaurants, hotels, bars, etc. was next to nothing and far below both the budgeted for 2021 and remuneration from the same quarter in 2020.

However, Gramex succeeded at maintaining the remuneration from radio in 2021, and an agreement with Performex on the distribution of income from use of sound recordings in music videos on television led to an extraordinarily large income at the end of the year, which overall means that we in 2021 totalled with an amount to be distributed approx. DKK 10 mio. higher than in 2020.

The year has since been marked by IT development. In June, the Board of Directors decided that Gramex should cooperate with the Austrian company BiConcepts about their IT solution Apollon already used by several foreign sister organisations for the registration of recordings, match claim and distribution functions. The IT project necessitates great focus and draws on many resources in Gramex, but especially on the resources of our member team, which means that in several areas we have had to adjust a little on the level of member service to be able to allocate the necessary hours to the IT project.

We have high expectations for the new IT system, which, together with the further development of the financial system and My Gramex, will mean that Gramex in the long run can offer its members far more details regarding the remuneration they receive than today, and. It will also digitize the organisation further.

During 2021 Gramex has also renegotiated agreements with several customers. Some negotiations continue into 2022, but in 2021 revised agreements have been entered into with more smaller customers, just as agreements have been entered into with brand new customers regarding the use of music.

Finally, in 2021, there has been significant focus on a proposal made by the Ministry of Taxation for the introduction of VAT on the activities carried out by collective management organisations such as Gramex. On the part of the Ministry of Taxation it was originally set up for the introduction of VAT on both Gramex' licensing and remuneration to the rightsholders. However, a collective effort from the collective management organisations has led to the adjustment of the proposal so that the final bill exempts artists from being liable for VAT regardless of income level.

In addition, in 2021, the administration has also been in ongoing dialogue with the Ministry of Culture as a result of the EU decision handed down in 2020 and necessitating a change in the current rules that restricts the scope of the repertoire that Gramex represents; a restriction that is not in line with EU law.

In the financial year 2021, Gramex did not refuse to issue licenses; such a refusal will in the areas that belong under section 68 otherwise not be an option.

Gramex' financial statements, which are approved independently by the Annual General Meeting, is incorporated as appendix A in the transparency report. As appendix B, an overview of remuneration received from and sent to foreign sister organisations in 2021, while an overview of distributed funds in 2021 divided into the individual distribution categories, including a statement of value per minute within the individual distribution categories are presented in Appendix C.

3. Management and distribution areas

As mentioned in section 1, Gramex manages the rights under Section 68 of the Danish Copyright Act, which pertains to it public performance of published sound recordings. This is Gramex' most important business area.

In addition, Gramex handles rights in accordance with specific mandates from the music producers (IFPI). This regards, i.e., mandates for the copying done of published sound recordings in the in-store radio area (where a supplier, for example, delivers music to a store) as well as in jukeboxes. Common for the areas is that the copy is made in close proximity to its public performance, which Gramex also collects for.

Also in the theatre area, Gramex has a mandate to handle the copying of sound recordings that takes place on many theatres when a public performance subsequently takes place.

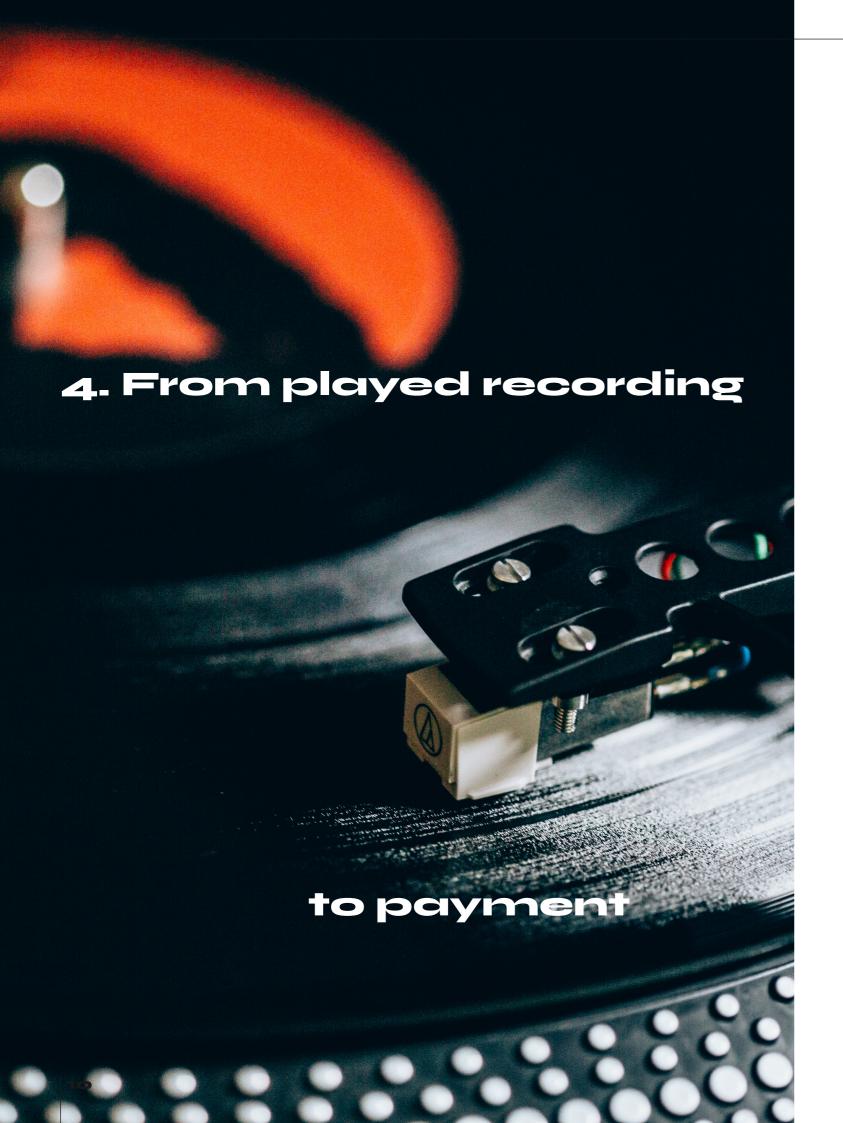

Gramex has been appointed by the Ministry of Culture to handle the so-called 20% pool. When the protection time of recordings was extended from 50 to 70 years, at the same time a scheme was introduced for an annual supplementary remuneration for performing artists who have been bought out and who thus not without such a separate scheme (20% the pool) would benefit from the extended protection period. The funds come from the music producers' sales, etc. of recordings that would have fallen out of protection, however, where the change in the law has meant that they remain protected.

While Copydan KulturPlus is responsible for the collection of blank media remuneration in Denmark, Gramex is responsible by agreement with several artist organisations for the distribution and payment of the audio share of blank media to Danish and foreign performing artists.

On behalf of Performex, Gramex distributes and pays out remuneration to performing artists in the following areas: retransmission of published sound recordings on both television and radio as well as remuneration for the use of published sound recordings that are part of archive productions, cf. section 30a of the Danish Copyright Act.

The basis for registration of rights are the studio recordings forms, Gramex receives from the Danish music producers, as well claims received from foreign sister organisations and agents.

In 2021, 5,804 studio recordings forms have been received from Danish music producers and approx. 165,000 claims from foreign sister organisations and agents.

All studio recordings forms are completed on Gramex' web portal My Gramex and received electronically. The studio recordings form contains release information and all tracks, including producer rights and information on the contributing performing artists, their instruments, and roles – e.g., soloist, studio musician, orchestra musician, conductor, etc.

Gramex registers a studio recordings form when Gramex has received a report from a radio/TV channel that a track on the sound recording has been played.

Based on the studio recordings form, we register the producer rights of the recording and all the performing artists track by track. New rightsholders are created and offered membership by Gramex, and all performing artists are awarded points based on their role on the individual track as indicated on the studio recordings form. Read more about the artists' points system in appendix D.

When a played recording on radio/TV cannot be matched with existing repertoire or a studio recordings form, it is listed on a so-called shortfall list, and we reserve an estimated number of points on the track for a later claim, either in the form of a studio recordings form or a foreign claim

Foreign claims are received from sister organisations or from agents. Every year they receive a list of all played recordings reported to Gramex. From this list, they submit their claims on behalf of the rightsholders they represent (both producers and performing artists).

When this year's played recordings are recorded, and the minutes and points of the year are in place, annual runs are carried out, where the remuneration for the year is allocated as described under section 5.

Hereafter, they are ready for distribution.

5. Distribution policy

Gramex is obliged to carry out individual distribution of the income that is collected in accordance with the compulsory license in section 68 of the Copyright Act. This distribution must be done regularly, carefully and accurately and in accordance with the general distribution policy approved by the Annual General Meeting.

The Annual General Meeting annually adopts the general distribution policy for distribution of the remuneration received. The Board of Directors decides within the framework of the general distribution policy the specific distribution rules.

All remuneration received on the basis of the compulsory license in section 68 of the Copyright Act, is distributed equally between music producers and performing artists. The remuneration stemming from the management of rights which has been handed over to Gramex by only one rights group (music producers or performing artists) are allocated solely to the respective rights group.

The income is divided into 3 main groups:

CI. Individual funds – income collected in accordance with section 68 of the Copyright Act, and where reports are received from individual customers for their use of music (radio/tv).

b. Non-individualized funds – income collected in accordance with section 68 of the Copyright Act, and where no reports are received from individual customers for the use of the music (stores, restaurants, bars, hotels, etc.))

c. Direct income – income that is collected either in accordance with section 68 of the Copyright Act or a mandate from one of the rights groups, which are not radio/tv remuneration, and where the individual customers report for the use of music. This group also includes foreign income as well as income that Gramex has not itself collected but has only undertaken to distribute to others on behalf of (e.g., blank media, retransmission, and archive productions).

Before distribution is carried out, administration costs and a reservation amount are deducted to meet any later eligible claims. On the producer side, the reservation amount is 1% of the AOF income (income from shops, bars, restaurants etc.), while on the performing artist side it accounts for 1% of the share of the remuneration attributed to cultural purposes.

Regardless of whether the collection of remuneration takes place pursuant to section 68 or happens according to a specific mandate from either the performing artists or the music producers, the same share is paid the administration cost

Administrative costs are not deducted from the income received for the use of Danish music abroad, as this income has already been reduced by the costs incurred by the respective foreign sister organisation for collection and distribution. The same goes for the share of the remuneration received from Greenland, respectively and the Faroe Islands, and which are distributed back to Greenlandic and Faroese producers and performing artists.

The net income is then distributed to the rightsholders within the distribution categories to which the remuneration relates to.

Individualized

The individual funds – all of which relate to radio and television – are divided into the following 6 categories that are similar for music producers and performing artists:

- National channels (radio and tv)
- Regional channels
- Commercial national radios
- Commercial local radios
- DAB radio
- Instore radio

Non-individualized

The non-individualized funds are handled for the producers as a separate distribution by reusing the radio data that has been the basis for the individual distribution.

On the performing artist' side, the non-individualized remuneration is allocated to the individual distribution and distributed proportionally between the categories under the individual distribution.

Direct income

The direct income is spilt into 4 categories for the music producers and 6 categories for the performing artists.

Producers:

- Theatres
- Copying, theatres etc.
- Copying, jukeboxes etc.
- International

Performing artists:

- Theatres
- Blank media
- Retransmission
- 20 % pool
- Archive productions
- International

Calculation of remuneration within the different distribution categories

The distribution is based on different principles for the music producers and the performing artists.

Music producers' distribution

The share of music producers is distributed by calculation a minute value within the relevant distribution category. The minute value is obtained by dividing the total number minutes played within the category with the remuneration within the same category. Is the minute value e.g., calculated to be DKK 10, and a recording has been played 10 minutes within a category, the music producer will receive DKK 100 (10x10) for the airplay of this recording within the respective category.

This way of allocating remuneration applies to all distributions to music producers.

Performing artists' distribution

Performing artists' distribution is not only based on played minutes and the remuneration within the individual category but also on a points system.

The performing artists' points system implies that the individual contributing to a recording is awarded a number of points. The number of points awarded as a contributor depends on the role the artist has on the recording (if the artist is a soloist, guitarist or conductor), whether there are several performing soloists, and whether the artist contributes as part of a group, a band, or a large / small orchestra.

The points system is attached as appendix D.

The performing artists' share of the incoming remuneration is calculated by allocating a minute point value, which is obtained by multiplying the total number played minutes with the total number of points in play within the individual category. The result is divided up into the total remuneration within the individual category, whereby the minute point value appears.

This way of distributing income for the performing artists apply to the individual remuneration, the non-individualized remuneration as well as remuneration relating to retransmission. Remuneration related to blank media is collected by the organization Copydan Kulturplus. Several artists' organisations that receive a share of this remuneration, has entered into an agreement with Gramex to provide the distribution of remuneration. It follows from this agreement that the remuneration is distributed among the 400 most played tracks in the area of radio and television.

In the case of archive productions, which Gramex distributes on behalf of Performex, the distribution is based on the use of music over a 10-year period on DR's TV channels.

Revenue related to the 20% pool must be allocated to the performing artists who contribute to recordings, which has been unprotected but which due to the extension of the term of protection from 50 to 70 years subsequently has become re-protected and which continues to generate sales revenue. The remuneration is distributed solely among performing artists who earlier have received a one-time fee for their contribution to the recording.

The total distribution basis can be found on Gramex' website, where you will also find the annual minute point values within the various distribution categories

6. Unallocated remuneration

Non-distributable remuneration may be remuneration, Gramex not have been able to distribute because Gramex has not been able to identify the rightsholders. However, it could also be remuneration to a rightsholder which Gramex has been able to identify but has not been able to get in contact with, or where the rightsholder (on the producer side) despite Gramex' request has decided not to claim their rights.

It follows from Gramex' rules that unallocated / unpaid remuneration expires 3 years after the end of the years to which the remuneration relates. This means that Gramex by the end of 2021 expires remuneration relating to 2018.

On the performing artist's side, DKK 7,808,681 expires by the end of 2021, while on the music producer side DKK 5,362,865 expires.

In accordance with the adopted policy on non-distributable remuneration, the non-distributable remuneration will first be used to cover post-calculations.

On the artist' side, the remaining remuneration is used for social, cultural, and educational purposes, cf. 12.

The music producers' non-distributable funds are distributed based on reported plays of protected recordings on radio, television, and any other source relating to the relevant distribution category. According to the adopted policy for non-distributable funds, the producers' representatives on the board may decide that the non-distributable funds may be wholly or partly used for social, cultural, and educational purposes. Such a decision has, however, not been taken in 2021, which is why the music producers' non-distributable funds for 2021 are set for redistribution.

7. Payments

Gramex has 4 annual payments in March, June, September, and December.

The June payout is the main payout of the year. It typically takes place in week 24-25, where last year's distribution is set for payment. Music played in the radio in 2021 will thus be paid out in June 2022. We pay out to Danish and direct foreign members, agents and sister organisations and pays Gramex' remuneration in all 3 main groups (individual, non-individualized and direct remuneration) and retransmission (radio, television, archives) and blank media.

In September, we will pay remuneration from Gramex' foreign sister organisations to Danish and directly foreign members. It is payment for use of their repertoire in the countries outside Denmark with which we have agreements and therefore exchanges repertoire, rights, and remuneration across borders. We also make an adjustment payment of Gramex' funds which we were unable to distribute in June. This may be due to the fact that we lack a signature, a studio recording form, an approval of airplay minutes or any other form of valid documentation of the rights.

The December payout is an adjustment payment of Gramex' funds in all 3 main groups (individual, non- individualized and direct remuneration) as well as retransmission (radio, television, archives) and blank media. There is remuneration for Danish and direct foreign members, agents, and sister organisations.

In March, we will make another an adjustment payment of Gramex' funds and remuneration from Gramex' foreign sister organisations to Danish and directly foreign members for the use of their music abroad.

In all payouts, adjustment payments are made for previous years not previously paid, e.g., because there has been no earlier claim or new information on performers not previously registered

8. Deductions for administration costs and costs for cultural purposes

As stated in section 5, deductions are made for justified and documented administrative costs in a number of categories of remuneration.

In addition, cf. the Act on Collective Management of Copyright section 14, deductions may be made for social, cultural, and educational purposes to the extent this is approved by the Annual General Meeting. However, there can alone be deductions made in income paid to foreign management organisations in accordance with the representation agreement, if the foreign organisation has agreed to this.

As for the performing artists in Gramex, today a deduction is made in the funds for the use of social, cultural, and educational purposes. The deduction, which is 10%, is deducted from the related income to section 68 of the Copyright Act.

Deductions of up to 10% of the remuneration Gramex collects on behalf of the performing artists represented by foreign sister organisations is made to the extent relevant foreign sister organisation has given its express consent thereto.

9. Investment and risk management policy

The current investment policy implies that all received and reserved remuneration must be placed properly and in the best possible way. Gramex generally adopts a low-risk and conservative investment policy.

Today, all funds are placed in accounts in nationwide banks either as cash deposits or in bonds and government debt securities.

The Annual General Meeting must annually approve Gramex' investment policy.

10. Supervisory function

It is, according to section 6 of the Collective Management Act, Gramex' Annual General Meeting, which must decide on the organisation's risk management policy, acquisition, sale or mortgaging of real estate, mergers and alliances, establishment of subsidiaries, acquisition of shares and rights, raising of loans, granting of loans, or collateral for loans.

In 2021, it has not been relevant for the Annual General Meeting of Gramex to make decisions relating to the above matters.

11. Information on relations with other collecting societies

Gramex collaborates with sister organisations in several areas. In relation to the licensing of rights, Koda is the most important partner in Denmark. Koda is responsible for collecting remuneration on behalf of both Koda and Gramex in the area called other public performance (AOF), and which covers the use of music that takes place in shops, restaurants, bars, gyms, hotels, etc.

Koda deducts 7% in administration costs from the remuneration due to Gramex; the remaining amount is paid to Gramex on a quarterly basis.

Gramex also collaborates with Performex. Gramex, on behalf of Performex, is distributing some of the retransmission income that Performex receives from Copydan Verdens TV. In addition, Gramex also distributes income on behalf of Performex in the archive area, which is linked to DR's use of its own archive productions.

Finally, Gramex cooperates with 46 sister organisations, which in each of their territories have undertaken to represent the rights that Gramex manages on behalf of its members.

12. Report on the use of deductions for cultural purposes

I In accordance with the adopted deduction policy of costs, cf. section 8, Gramex has in the financial year of 2021 made a deduction of a total of DKK 8,558,274 in the artists' income for use in cultural, social, and educational purposes. In addition, in accordance with the general distribution policy and for the purpose of use for the same cultural purposes is allocated an additional DKK 6,101,137, which constitutes unclaimed funds after the 3 years deadline.

The income is paid to the 8 artist organisations, each representing members who exercise activity within Gramex' area. The money is distributed between the 8 organisations as follows:

- Dansk Kapelmesterforening 9,0 %
- Dansk Musiker Forbund 29,25 %
- Korsangernes Fællesråd 8,0 %
- Dansk Artist Forbund 29,25 %
- Dansk Solist Forbund 5,5 %
- Solistforeningen af 1921 8,0 %
- Dansk Skuespillerforbund 9,0 %
- Dansk Organist- og Kantorsamfund 2,0 %

The cultural funds play a crucial factor in developing and strengthening the Danish music scene and does not only contribute to find and develop new talents, but just as much to further train performers in the established music industry. In addition, parts of the cultural funds are allocated to political lobbying in the field of copyright and in general to strengthen copyright protection and law enforcement, which benefits both the Danish and the international music industry.

The 8 organisations prepare an annual report for Gramex, which explains the use of the cultural funds paid out. In 2021, Gramex has received reports on the organisations' use of the funds which was paid to the organisations in 2020 arising from 2019. A comprehensive overview of the application of the cultural funds of the 8 organisations can be seen in appendix E.

No deductions for cultural purposes have been carried out in 2021 in music producers' remuneration.

Management's Statement

The Board of Directors and the Executive Board have today considered and adopted the Financial Statements and Distribution Report of Gramex for the financial year 1 January - 31 December 2021.

The Financial Statements and Distribution Report are presented in accordance with the provisions of the Danish Financial Statements Act applicable to enterprises of reporting class A, the Statutes and the rules of distribution as well as section 23(5) of the Danish Act on Collective Management of Copyright.

In our opinion, the Financial Statements and Distribution Report give a true and fair view of the financial position of the association at 31 December 2021 and the results of operations of the association for 2021.

We recommend that the Financial Statements and Distribution Report be approved at the Annual General Meeting.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the members of Gramex

Opinion

In our opinion, the Financial Statements and Distribution Report give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Association at 31 December 2021 and of the results of the Association's operations for the financial year 1 January - 31 December 2021 in accordance with the provisions of the Danish Financial Statements Act applicable to enterprises of reporting class A, the statutes and the rules of distribution as well as section 23(5) of the Danish Act on Collective Management of Copyright.

We have audited the Financial Statements and Distribution Report of Gramex for the financial year 1 January - 31 December 2021, which comprise summary of significant accounting policies, income statement, balance sheet, cash flow statement, liabilities to rights holders, notes and distribution information (the "Financial Statements")

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) and the additional requirements applicable in Denmark. Our responsibilities under those standards and requirements are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the Financial Statements section of our Report. We are independent of the Association in accordance with International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) and the additional requirements applicable in Denmark. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Management's responsibilities for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of Financial Statements and a Distribution Report that give a true and fair view in accordance with the provisions of the Danish Financial Statements Act applicable to enterprises of reporting class A, the statutes and the rules of distribution and that meet the requirements of section 23(5) of the Danish Act on Collective Management of Copyright, and for such internal control as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Financial Statements, Management is responsible for assessing the Association's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the Financial Statements unless Management either intends to liquidate the Association or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs and the additional requirements applicable in Denmark will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs and the additional requirements applicable in Denmark, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- · Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- · Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Association's internal control.
- \cdot Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by Management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of Management's use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the Financial Statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Association's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Financial Statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Association to cease to continue as a going concern.
- \cdot Evaluate the overall presentation, structure, and content of the Financial Statements, including the disclosure in the notes, and whether the Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that gives a true and fair view.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Accounting Policies

General comments

The Financial Statements and Distribution Report of Gramex for 2021 are presented in accordance with the provisions of the Danish Financial Statements Act applicable to enterprises of reporting class A, the statutes and the rules of distribution as well as section 23(5) of the Danish Act on Collective Management of Copyright.

The accounting policies have been changed since 2020.

The recognition of other public performance has been changed to the effect that Koda's commission is offset against Koda's income, and the commission is therefore no longer included in the Gramex expenses. Therefore, a decrease is observed both in income and expenses corresponding to the amount of the commission, but the change has no impact on the results. Comparative figures for 2020 have been restated, meaning that the commission of DKK 5,930,447 has been transferred from Expenses (note 2) to Statement of income from other public performance (note 4) with the following adjustment of figures for other public performance and expenses in the income statement for 2020. The reason for the change is that it provides a truer and fairer view of Gramex' actual revenue and expenses incurred.

The accounting policies remain unchanged in other areas compared to 2020.

Income statement

Income for distribution includes remuneration collected on behalf of rights holders from both radio and television broadcasting, as well as other public performance of phonograms relating to the year.

Income from affiliated organisations abroad is recognised upon receipt thereof.

Expenses for distribution include costs for the Association's administrative staff, management, offices, office costs and other administrative expenses incurred in connection with the management of rights.

Financial income and expenses contain interest and capital gains realised on bond holdings.

Balance sheet

Custody account

The custody account is recognised at market value at 31 December 2021

IT equipment, fixtures and fittings and IT development are recognised at cost less straight-line depreciation over five years. Certain minor assets, leasehold improvements and software are written off in the year of acquisition.

Receivables

Income from radio stations, etc. receivable is measured on the basis of an individual assessment, and provisions for bad debts are made for the receivables which are estimated to pose a loss risk.

The determination of receivables via Koda is as a general rule performed according to the invoicing principle. However, this implies that the entire amount receivable is included in the financial statements, however, reduced as follows: in terms of receivables older than 60 days, a provision of 25% is made, older than 90 days 50%, older than 180 days 75% and older than 720 days 100%.

Distribution

The amount available for distribution for the year will be distributed to rights holders in accordance with the distribution principles laid down by the rights groups.

Cash flow statement

The cash flow statement shows the Association's cash flows for the year broken down by operating, investing and financing activities, changes for the year in cash and cash equivalents as well as the Association's cash and cash equivalents at the beginning and end of the year.

Cash flows from operating activities

Cash flows from operating activities are calculated as the net profit/loss for the year adjusted for changes in working capital and non-cash operating items such as depreciation, amortisation and impairment losses, and provisions. Working capital comprises current assets less short-term debt excluding items included in cash and cash equivalents.

Cash flows from investing activities

Cash flows from investing activities comprise cash flows from acquisitions and disposals of property, plant and equipment, intangible assets as well as fixed asset investments.

Cash flows from financing activities

Cash flows from financing activities comprise cash flows from the raising and repayment of long-term debt as well as payments to and from rights holders.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise "Cash at bank and in hand" and "Custody account".

The cash flow statement cannot be immediately derived from the published financial records.

Distribution of income and expenses

Income and expenses are distributed among producers and performing artists in accordance with the following principles:

INCOME

As a rule, all income is distributed by 50 per cent to each rights group. However, there are exceptions with respect to remuneration from abroad and remuneration where the rights holders have given a mandate in areas outside Gramex' usual mandate.

The following remuneration is distributed in full to the producers:

Copying, jukeboxes, etc.
Copying, theatres, etc.
Copying, background music
Mechanisation, websites
Podcasts
Web tv

The following remuneration is distributed in full to the artists:

Retransmission

Net costs	24,667,894	10,565,588	14,102,306

In relation to work associated with areas covered by section 68, expenses must be allocated on a fifty-fifty basis, to be understood as Gramex' total costs.

In relation to mandate areas which a group wants Gramex to manage, the same level of costs (rate of cost) as for the section 68 area will be charged, which lowers the total cost level for both parties.

Point system of the performing artists

Based on a proposal from the performing artists' rights group and as adopted by the executive board, the performing artists' share of income from reported playbacks of protected tracks from radio, television and any other sources is distributed by multiplying in each distribution category the total number of minutes played back by the total number of points for the tracks that have been played back and using this figure to divide the total amount for distribution within that distribution category. This results in a minute points value which is multiplied by the number of points the individual artist has been registered for within that distribution category thus yielding the amount for distribution.

Illustration: Distribution amount/(Minutes x Points) = Minute points value Minute points value x the individual artist's points = The artist's amount for distribution Points are calculated according to the following scale: The number of points obtained is modified when several C soloists perform together, according to the following scale: A) Studio musicians, backing vocalists or remixers2 points E) Groups, small orchestras and small choruses. The number of points obtained is modified when several group members perform together, according to the following scale:
